

Master your CSRD reporting and build your expertise

Become a GRI Certified ESRS Sustainability Professional

The ESRS continue to transform the practice of sustainability reporting within the EU and beyond. Prepare yourself and gain comprehensive expertise by earning a trusted certification in ESRS reporting, issued by one of the main co-creators of the ESRS.

The ESRS Professional Certification Program is designed for individuals involved in or preparing to meet the challenges of CSRD reporting. It offers professional development tailored to building the knowledge, expertise, and skills required for the effective application of the European Sustainability Reporting Standards.

Five reasons to enroll:

1. Deepen your expertise and build practical skills for implementing the ESRS effectively.
2. Earn professional recognition from a co-creator of the ESRS.
3. Elevate the quality and credibility of your ESRS sustainability reports.
4. Advance your career with in-demand skills and a competitive edge.
5. Bolster your credentials as a sustainability reporting professional.

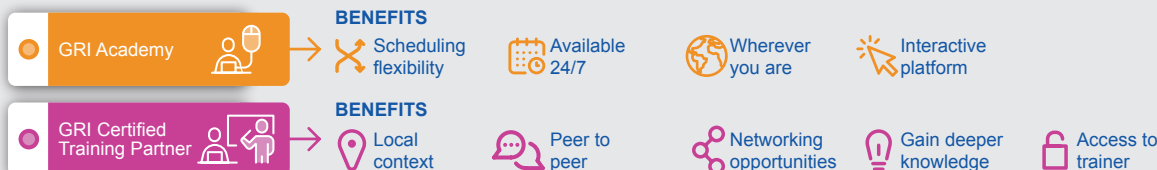

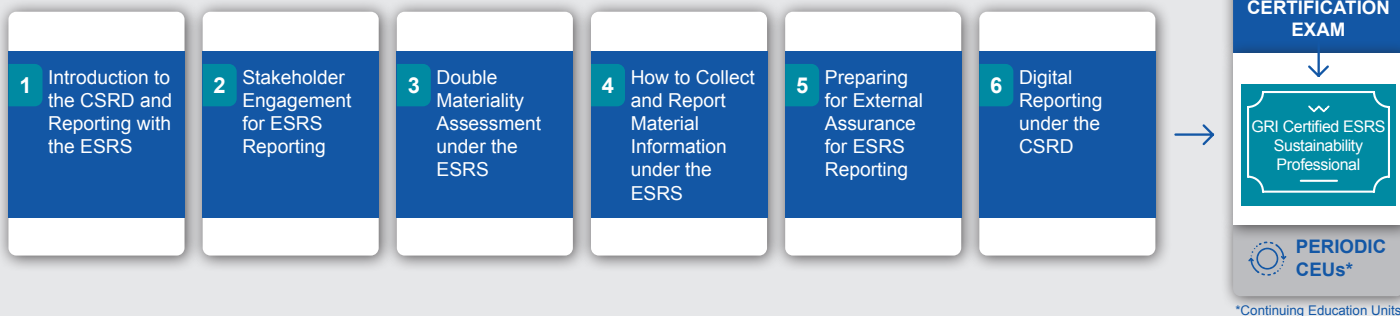

Self-paced eLearning, instructor-led, or a mix of both? You decide!

All six courses on the fundamentals of ESRS reporting, along with the final exam, are available 24/7 through the GRI Academy—GRI's dedicated online learning platform. Start learning whenever you can! These online courses feature interactive, narrated content with knowledge checks to track your progress and keep you on course.

Alternatively, take one or more of the courses through an engaging, trainer-led experience delivered by a GRI Certified Training Partner in more than 50 countries. Complete your certification journey with the final online exam.
