

Digital Reporting under the CSRD

Lead the way in digital sustainability reporting

Why this eLearning course matters

With the CSRD in force, organizations must move beyond static reports and embrace digital disclosure. Meeting these new requirements can feel like a challenge, with terms like XBRL, digital taxonomy, and in-line tagging raising questions. This course provides the clarity and practical guidance you need to navigate digital reporting with confidence. While the CSRD and the ESRS may change under the Omnibus Package, the reporting process remains largely the same.

What you will learn

- Explain the importance of digital reporting and the related CSRD requirements
- Recognize how the XBRL taxonomy enables tagging and digital reporting
- Publish sustainability information in line with ESRS requirements
- Anticipate future trends in digital reporting
